

Prayer for Inner Healing

Help a friend Share a Prayer

Speak clearly, Lord, into my heart. In the past, I had been busy with life and I forgot what it meant to really live. In the midst of my pain and difficulties, allow me to know you So that I may understand what living for you is all about. I am weak, Lord, and helpless without you. I surrender to you, Lord, all my fears, all my burdens. I will focus on your truth that you will be with me always. I will never understand your ways but I know that you have a purpose for me Lord, as I continue this prayer, Gently touch me with Your healing hands. You are the divine healer and the greatest physician of all. I believe in my heart that nothing is impossible to You. Heal my innermost being, my spirit and my soul. I know, Lord, that there is an end to my loneliness and sickness Because You died on the cross and rose from the dead. From now on I just want to live with a loving heart and not with a grumbling heart, from now on, Lord, I just want to live with a fruitful heart. In the mighty name of Jesus. Amen.
