

Prosperity Prayer

With God as my continual support I shall not want. The Lord brings to pass my continuous good and ever expanding prosperity. I am always provided for because I have faith in God as my omnipresent abundance.

I have faith in God as my almighty resource and I trust God to preserve me in my prosperity.

I trust in God in all the affairs of my life. I come to God because I believe that God is a rewarder of them that seek after God. I do not depend upon persons or conditions for any of my prosperity. I fully realize that persons and conditions are channels of my prosperity but God is the source of my supply. I am the rich child of a loving God. I cleanse my mind and I ask God to cleanse the minds of all others of any idea that my good can be withheld from me. No person, situation or event can keep from me that which God has for me right now.

My success and my future cannot be limited. God surrounds me and fills me with Divine ideas that free me from all limitation. With God's help, I am now and forever freed from all financial limitation. I turn on the great energy of my thinking in prayer and focus on prosperity so that God's prosperity can focus on me. Through my free-will, I say yes to God and to God's good now prepared for me. God's speed now increases the velocity of my life. I am moving towards prosperity and prosperity is moving towards me. I am a magnet for its activity of good in my life.

Vast improvement comes immediately in every phase of my life now. Every day, in every way, God is making things better and better for me now. I eagerly invite the wealth of God to manifest in my life now. I release any idea held in mind that I cannot do this. I maintain ever expanding financial prosperity for the rest of my life.

I am provided for, and I eagerly provide for others by sharing my good. I am beautifully and appropriately supplied, clothed, housed and transported. God provides supply for every need. I give thanks to God for a quick and substantial increase in my prosperity income now. I am God's rich child! I am rich, well and happy in every aspect of my life. My life is in Divine order now.

My life is filled abundantly with loving friends and family. I give first of God's love given to me and to all those around me. I give first to my spiritual sources knowing that I cannot out give God. Giving is the first step in receiving and my giving makes me rich. I freely give my 10th to God and I reap a 100 fold increase.

My life is expanded, rich and full. I feel fulfilled as I actively move forward into my expanded good Divinely directed and lavishly prospered. I am God-guided into my perfect place to serve. I am now guided into my true place with the true people and with lasting prosperity quickly, easily and in peace. There is no lack in God. The only lack is the fear of lack itself.

I am surrounded by God's abundance. I live, move and have my being in God's abundance. I think only abundant thoughts. The love of God flows easily within my life as abundance. God's good fills my every need. Blessings - all kinds, some seemingly insignificant, some very great - come to me through God's love. They flow from one person to another, increasing and enhancing all of our lives.

In communion with God, you give your attention wholly to God and become more aware of God's blessings. Your heart breathes a quiet "Thank You, God" as you express your love to God and to others. Immersed in the flow of God's good you see how your life has been enriched. You are grateful and you give thanks to God.

In Jesus Christ's name...Amen
